An international professional development programme for appointed leaders of teaching and learning (Lead Learners) within primary schools

An overview

Leaders of Greater Depth Teaching and Learning consists of 3 specifically designed modules, each focusing on developing and promoting different aspects of highly effective teaching and learning. The programme has been designed as a collaborative professional learning community (PLC) in which participants will develop a greater understanding of how to offer effective CPD, within their own school, on outstanding teaching and learning. Each module will focus on increasing the understanding and awareness of how to offer deeper professional learning experiences that have a significant impact on classroom practice. The modules are designed to engage all participants in rigorous professional learning and individuals can expect to be stretched and challenged by the materials and professional dialogue.

Each module will include a range of high-quality, relevant and current materials that will be available for use by all delegates when leading professional learning and development within their own school

A professional development programme with a difference!

Consistency, high expectations and high standards are not an ideal but rather a necessity and the drive to achieve these three components should be led by highly skilled, knowledgeable and confident in-school facilitators. This programme has been specifically designed to support leaders of teaching and learning in how they plan and offer rigorous professional learning and development to all staff. The programme will support participants in developing their understanding of greater depth teaching and learning and will seek to increase an individual's confidence in leading highly effective and rigorous professional learning experiences, within an authentic learning organisation. The programme focuses on exploring how 'lead learners' can offer high impact CPD within a culture of reflective practice, ensuring every adult reaches their potential.

Leaders of Greater Depth Teaching and Learning is an inquiry-based professional learning programme that will support individuals in developing a deeper understanding around a number of key issues, including:

- The differences between Continual Professional Development (CPD) and Continual Professional Learning (CPL)
  - Essential ingredients for high-impact professional learning and development
  - Key Principles for greater depth teaching and learning
  - How 'lead learners' build capacity within every member of staff, ensuring pupils receive excellence in learning
  - Consider the role of the lead learners in improving teaching and learning throughout a school
  - Inquire into what really has an effect on raising standards in every classroom
  - Effect size of classroom interventions on pupil learning
- By the end of each module, participants will have knowledge, resources and ideas to lead a series of professional learning sessions within their own school

Leaders of Greater Depth Teaching and Learning - A modular professional learning experience

Leaders of greater depth teaching and learning has been designed around three key learning modules. Each module will be explored during face-to-face sessions and will be further developed through a range of inter-sessional, school-based tasks, each supported through online, facilitation.

The modules aim to:

- Stimulate, challenge and provoke deep professional thinking
- Build and extend a range of essential professional learning competencies, including knowledge, skills, behaviours and professional attitudes
- Promote self-reflection that leads to changes in professional learning and continual development
- Enhance an inquiry-stance into effective continual professional development
- Encourage significant study and evaluation as well as the application of new ideas.

Leaders of Greater Depth Teaching and Learning - An overview of the 3 professional learning modules

This programme has been designed around three key professional learning modules and three key learning questions:

- Module One - Clarity precedes competence - It starts with a clear understanding

~ Key learning question - What are the main influences on greater-depth teaching and learning?

Module one focuses on four key influences of effective teaching and learning and will begin to delve into professional attitudes and behaviours needed to be an expert teacher. How do staff meetings and other professional development processes develop the essential professional characteristics to achieve success in every classroom?

- Module two - Getting the basics in place - Ensuring consistency around greater-depth teaching and learning

~ Key learning question - How do teachers and teaching assistants plan, deliver and evaluate greater-depth learning experiences for every pupil?

Module two focuses on creating a greater appreciation of the differences between shallow and deep learning. Every pupil, in every class, should be experiencing both shallow and deep learning, but how they happen is so different and it is essential that all staff understand these differences. From the outset, staff must be fully aware of their intended outcomes and plan accordingly.

- Module Three - Making it stick - Developing the key principles of greater depth teaching and learning

~ Key learning question - How do leaders of T and L ensure there are high expectations and that key principles are being 'lived out' in every classroom?

Module three focuses on the three domains of competence for greater depth teaching and learning and how leaders of T and L can ensure these are being embedded in every class. Participants will explore how they can support all staff in improving the interpersonal, intrapersonal and cognitive domains of greater depth teaching and learning
